

Litigation Associate

Wong Fleming seeks a litigation associate, with two to four years of experience, for its Princeton, New Jersey office. This candidate should have good organizational and legal analytical skills, have proficient writing ability, be flexible in a fast-paced environment and be a collegial, team player with an understanding of the business interests of our clients and the firm. The firm also seeks a candidate who has high standards for his or her own professional growth and ethical responsibilities, and is capable of producing an excellent work product. We welcome candidates to join one of the largest diverse law firms in the country, representing clients nationwide and globally. Please send your law school transcript, resume, writing sample and salary requirements to joconnor@wongfleming.com if you are interested in joining a law firm that represents businesses in commercial and employment litigation, with a focus on creditor's rights and bankruptcy, insurance coverage and defense, employment defense and intellectual property matters.